

FAMD - FAMILY MEDICINE

FAMD 701 Family Medicine Clerkship (2-12 Credit Hours)

Core Family Medicine is a hospital and/or ambulatory experience that enhances the student's understanding of patient and family dynamics in illness and health, the physician/patient relationship, and the careful and economical use of medical therapeutics, technological and laboratory investigation, and hospitalization. Special attention is given to the patient interview, directed physical examination, and patient education.

May be repeated for credit.

Academic Level: Graduate

FAMD 721 Family Medicine Elect I (2-6 Credit Hours)

Core Family Medicine is a hospital and/or ambulatory experience that enhances the student's understanding of patient and family dynamics in illness and health, the physician/patient relationship, and the careful and economical use of medical therapeutics, technological and laboratory investigation, and hospitalization. Special attention is given to the patient interview, directed physical examination, and patient education.

Academic Level: Graduate

FAMD 722 Family Medicine Elect II (2-6 Credit Hours)

Core Family Medicine is a hospital and/or ambulatory experience that enhances the student's understanding of patient and family dynamics in illness and health, the physician/patient relationship, and the careful and economical use of medical therapeutics, technological and laboratory investigation, and hospitalization. Special attention is given to the patient interview, directed physical examination, and patient education.

Academic Level: Graduate

FAMD 723 Family Medicine Elect II (2-6 Credit Hours)

Core Family Medicine is a hospital and/or ambulatory experience that enhances the student's understanding of patient and family dynamics in illness and health, the physician/patient relationship, and the careful and economical use of medical therapeutics, technological and laboratory investigation, and hospitalization. Special attention is given to the patient interview, directed physical examination, and patient education.

Academic Level: Graduate

FAMD 751 LIC Family Medicine (3 Credit Hours)

This is a Longitudinal Integrated Clerkship in Family Medicine.

Academic Level: Graduate

FAMD 752 LIC Family Medicine (3 Credit Hours)

This is a Longitudinal Integrated Clerkship in Family Medicine.

Academic Level: Graduate

FAMD 910 Sports Medicine (2-12 Credit Hours)

May be repeated for credit.

Academic Level: Graduate