HIST 2660 History of Drugs in the Americas (3 Credit Hours)

This course examines how drugs have shaped societies and cultures in the Americas—from the United States to the southern mountains of Peru and Bolivia—in the last hundred or so years. We will begin by considering the social and cultural origins of drugs, as well as how societies have applied and regulated them, before proceeding to assess their social, cultural, and political implications.

Academic Level: Undergraduate

Enrollment is limited to students with a program in Health Sciences or Cont Ed Post Bacc Pre-Health.
